
Conditions of Use
for Test Mark, Example Certificates and Qualification Name for Successful Candidates

Conditions of Use for the Certificate

- as a copy e.g. in application or tender documents
- as a scan on your personal web page [\[?\]](#)
- the original, e.g. in the office or shop

Please note: The certificate may only be used as a complete document. Especially the extraction of parts (e.g. Logo) or the concealment of parts (e.g. the end of validity) is not allowed.

An ID-number on the certificate gives reference to a page on our certification platform Certipedia, on which the admission requirements and contents of the completed examination are described. This way everyone can see which high quality qualification the certificate documents.

Conditions of Use for the Qualification Name

The name of the qualification, e.g. „Sales Engineer with TÜV Rheinland Certified Qualification“, may be used for marketing purposes.

However you must continuously ensure, that you cannot mistakenly be taken by customers or competitors as an employee or representative of TÜV Rheinland, or that your company is not regarded as certified as a whole, for example as a qualified company.

You can achieve this, by using your qualification name for example in the context of your company name (company name, logo), or in a continuous text with the wording „...I possess a TÜV Rheinland Certified Qualification as Sales Engineer“.

Conditions of Use for the Test Mark

Additional advertising possibilities e.g. on business cards or on company cars, are possible for successful candidates by applying for a personal test mark signet with registration in Certipedia. By use of an individual ID-number or a QR-Code on the personal signet, your name in combination with the proven qualification can be found on the internet, linked with your personal internet page.
